I begin now to consider what I shall say to my good friend when I see him ⁱⁿ the country in excuse for writing so seldom, I doubt I shall be hard put to it, but I have yet a fortnight in town to consider of it, I have been enquiring about an Air Pump, & it is not to be had under 7 or 8, your Loadstone is mended & I gave it m^r Arthington, who mends a pace & goes abroad a little now, pray let me hear from You speedily if I can

Do any thing & you before I come down, I promise my self a good deal of pleasure this summer in the Country & so stay near half a year. I should be glad to hear how the Register Bill goes on, & if you will give my service to that immortal knave of y^r it is all from
